

3D-P Announces Partnership With Finning - Canada

Scottsdale, Arizona - January 1, 2010

3D-P, a leading provider of technology products for the mining industry, is pleased to announce a partnership agreement has been reached with Finning - Canada.

The partnership will allow both companies to continue to offer expanded services to our clients within the Natural Resources sector to include the mining space. Specifically, 3D-P will now offer through Finning the entire 3D-P technology platform to include the Hornet, Sabre & Phantom onboard wireless network and application management appliance devices.

Sean McClary, Vice President of Sales & Marketing had this to say, "For both parties this was a win-win situation. We at 3D-P get to create a partnership with a leader in Canada who at the same time sees the value of adding our platform to their own offering and how it extends the relationship and adds value to the client. And from Finning - Canada "We see this as an opportunity to add value to our clients and provide them with additional tools that they have already come to use, trust and rely on", said Paul Raj, Technology Products, Finning - Canada.
